

ACQUIT EASTERNER OF SERIOUS CHARGE

Stubborn Legal Battle Requiring Whole Day, Echo of Tobacco
Sales Last Year

One of the most stubbornly fought cases in the Madison circuit court since the beginning of the present term, was that of the Commonwealth vs. W. G. Yancey, of Clarksville, Va., which occupied the attention of the court for more than one whole day and terminated in a verdict of not guilty upon the part of the jury within a period of fifteen minutes after that body assumed charge.

Young Yancey was charged with having misappropriated a quantity of tobacco in a local warehouse and is said to have sold it while on the local floors. The defendant, who left the city soon after the alleged transaction learned while in the east, it is claimed, that an indictment had been returned against him by the Madison county grand jury at its regular session, and he is said by his attorneys to have lost no time in returning to Richmond and looking up the case. This, the evidence shows, was done, with the result that he gave bond for his appearance after which he returned east. The specific charge was grand larceny. The witnesses in the main were officials and employees of the Madison Tobacco Warehouse Company of this city. It developed that there were many thousands of pounds of tobacco stored in the warehouses of the company, and it seemed that there was more or less confusion, when it came to the case of the young man, who maintained that he handled nothing but the tobacco he legitimately bought. He stated that he had nothing to do with any other part of the tobacco stored in the warehouse of the plaintiff, and testimony as well as his accounts of purchases and sales of tobacco showed that he handled but a stipulated amount. John Noland and J. P. Chenault were his attorneys.

Yancey, upon being acquitted, seemed greatly pleased, stating this was the first time he had ever been accused of wrong doing. He brought credentials from his home in the east showing former transactions, testimony of character witnesses, etc. He has made many friends since his return to the city, and will spend several days here with friends.

Football Tickets May Result In One Murder

Arthur Denman, Nicholasville merchant, was shot Thursday night by Prof. T. B. Threlkeld, head of the Threlkeld Select School for Boys in Nicholasville, in a quarrel arising over the sale of football tickets not expected to live. He is at the Good Samaritan Hospital, Lexington, where he was taken immediately after the shooting took place. Denman's brother, William, who accompanied his brother to Lexington, gave an account of the shooting, which he says is the result of a disagreement between himself and Prof. Threlkeld over the sale of football tickets to games to be played by the school, of which Threlkeld is principal.

HARDING SMOKED OUT SAYS WHITE

New York, Oct. 9.—George White, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, in a statement, declared that "the democrats have smoked Senator Harding out and he now has made the League of Nations issue in the campaign clear."

"He has apparently scrapped the League and along with it the Lodge reservations," Mr. White's statement added.

"Also frankly, I am amazed at Senator Harding's reiteration in his Omaha speech Thursday of his statement, 'I have a sympathetic feeling for Irish freedom. I voted that way in the United States Senate.'"

"On July 29, 1919, when the Senate was considering the Pittman resolution asking clemency from Great Britain toward Irish political prisoners, Harding voted against it. On November 18, 1919, he voted against a reservation for Irish self-determination. On March 18, 1920, he voted against the Gerry resolution 'adhering to the principle of self-determination and to the original Senate resolution of sympathy with the aspirations of the Irish people for a government of their own choice.'"

"He did this after voting to lay the resolution on the table and thus failing to emasculate it. On the original resolution of sympathy for Ireland the record discloses that he dodges that vote by absenting himself from the chamber and on every other vote pending to give due consideration to the Irish problem he voted 'no.'"

LOHRISCH FUNERAL IS HELD SATURDAY

Suffered From Mental Affliction
He Confided To Friends—
Successful In Business

The funeral of Emil Lohrisch, who died Thursday evening at the Pattie A. Clay Infirmary, after suffering for two weeks with a bullet wound in his head, self-inflicted after he had shot and killed Mrs. Lucy Estes at her home on Irvine street, took place Saturday afternoon. The funeral services at the family residence were conducted by Rev. O. W. Sadler of the Methodist church, and there was a large attendance of relatives and friends and a goodly representation of business men of the city. Interment was made in the Richmond cemetery.

Emil Lohrisch, according to his own statement to friends during the past three months, suffered from mental aberration. He confided in a number of friends, stating he was suffering from what he believed to be a brain affliction, and it was intimated that he was worried considerably. That his condition preyed upon his mind is the opinion of some to whom he had confided his condition. To one man he stated he would lose all sense of memory, the lapse of memory continuing for some time, after which he would, according to his statements, regain self-consciousness, and remember the instant his senses seemed to have left him, and would find himself generally, where he remembered having been at the time of the attack.

Emil Lohrisch, who was 48 years of age, came to Richmond, after reaching America from Shanackey, Germany, at the age of 14 years, and with the exception of about two years, had been a resident of this city and county since. He was taken in charge of by Herman Zeimann, a baker, for whom he worked in the restaurant business. Lohrisch is said to have been thrifty and later, when he embarked in business for himself, is quoted by business men as having been very successful. He was recognized as a man of good judgment in business affairs, one old resident stated, and was at one time a member of the Richmond city council, which office he is said to have filled with satisfaction.

WHISKY BANDITS KILL ONE, HURT TWO

Ben T. Rogers, a Lexington barber, was killed and Homer Naves, night operator at the L. & N. station at Midway, Woodford county, was probably fatally injured by unknown negroes Friday when they answered a call from guards at the Midway distillery to help capture the negroes, who, it is alleged, were attempting to remove several cases of whisky from the distillery.

Rogers was killed instantly by the fusillade of pistol shots and Naves was shot through the abdomen and the liver.

Albert Kennedy, a Midway negro, was arrested by Midway police Friday, and is being held in jail there in connection with the shooting and attempted robbery. He denies any knowledge of the affair.

The Lexington police department has been notified to be on the lookout for Richard James, another negro, thought to have been a member of the party.

TARVIA ARRIVES; WORK STARTS SOON

As per promise by City Councilman, Charles Golden, there will be spreading of tarvia on the city streets within a period of a week or ten days. A quantity of the material is here and the workmen will arrive soon, and the work will be started immediately, it is said. This, it is believed, will admit of this work being finished before the completion of the paving of the streets of the city. The extension work will be continued for some time. There will also be tarvia used within the confines of the city, a number of property owners having asked for it. This will not complete the treating of thoroughfares in the locality with tarvia, since there will be much of it used on the roads of the county.

ATTENTION EVERYONE

The following letter from S. F. Crecelius, City Engineer, is self-explanatory, and I desire, therefore, that it be given the widest publicity. So, please publish this in the Daily Register and ask the citizens to co-operate with the City officials in the matter. Your truly, L. P. EVANS, Mayor.

Mr. L. P. Evans, Mayor, Richmond.
Dear Sir: The effect of automobile drippings on the asphalt streets is causing considerable uneasiness.

The softening of asphalt by automobile drippings is causing some uneasiness in the minds of the citizens of Richmond and many are making personal investigations, digging out the surface material. The public should be advised that the spots will harden again when the oil evaporates, doing no harm, and no one should disturb the material in the oily spots.

The public should co-operate in keeping kerosene off the streets, as it will destroy asphalt, and the kerosene ordinance should be rigidly enforced. Very respectfully, S. F. CRECELIUS.

IN MADISON COURT

Saturday in the Madison circuit court was given over by Judge Shackelford to the hearing of motions, demurrers and pleadings in various cases. There was no jury work and the jury men were excused from duty on Friday evening after they returned a verdict in the Yancey case, which occupied all of the day Friday.

The first of the week will record the hearing of a series of civil cases. There are about ten divorce cases under submission and these, it is expected, will be taken up as the court has time between other hearings. Cases set for Monday are: H. P. Barclay vs. L. C. House, J. M. Logan vs. N. L. Marcum, B. S. Terrill vs. Lakes & Parsley.

Alleged Murderer Returned Here Friday

As a result of a continuance in Clay county circuit court, Bill Smith, charged with the murder of an officer when the latter is said to have asked him regarding whisky, the prisoner was returned to Richmond and placed in jail to await another trial. Smith is said to have shot the officer dead as a reply to the question, when the officer approached the man. Smith is said to have been suspected of bootlegging and there was no argument, the shooting following the approach of the officer with the question. A woman is said to have been identified with Smith in the case.

COUNTY SPEECHES VERY NUMEROUS

Big Call For Speakers From All
Parts of County—Chairman
Chenault Hustling

The work of the Madison County Democratic Committee which has been evident in Richmond and the county for some time is rapidly spreading to the rural districts and numerous speeches are being made as the campaign is being carried beyond the confines of the city. There are calls for speakers in various parts of the county at the same time and County Chairman J. C. Chenault, who is ever busy, besides furnishing the speakers has to fill in once in a while himself. He will do so Saturday night, and will be one of the speakers at Kavanaugh, where he was informed there was already a big crowd awaiting him. He telephoned out that he would be on the job and he started out bright and early for the scene of action. "I will start the ball rolling successfully if it takes all the night," said the hustling chairman as he departed.

There will be speaking also Saturday afternoon and night at Union City, Mrs. Dr. Payne and Mrs. Dr. Holton, besides Rev. O. O. Green, of Richmond, being on the program. It was also reported from there that many who wanted to hear the issues presented and this will be done in an able manner.

Rev. O. O. Green is also on the program for a speech at Big Hill, where another big meeting is booked for Saturday night. This is but one of the many to be looked after for which calls have been made. The work in the county is becoming more extended every week, and indications are that there will be a big demand for every available speaker in this city and vicinity.

FIRE SATURDAY FIRST IN 11 DAYS

The first time the fire alarm has been sounded in Richmond for a period of almost two weeks took place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock when the department was called to the home of Robert Ramsey on the Eastern Normal campus, where fire started in the roof of the home. A discharge of the chemicals was sufficient to subdue the blaze, which was reached within a short time after the alarm was sounded.

Stone Maupin, driver of the truck, made the first trip over the newly paved streets, driving west on Main, then south on Lancaster avenue. He stated that there was "some going" when he reached the avenue and added that he "lost" the usual run of followers in other machines after the avenue was reached. The running is said to have been such as to cut down the time in making the trip almost one-third.

Citing the senate's rejection of the Hitchcock reservations as a contradiction of Harding's statement, Cox said the senator "simply does not know what he is talking about." He also said the president held more than one frank exchange with the senators regarding the league amendments.
